DECLASSIFIED
3/11/53

It simply flew over the countryside in a heavy snow storm. It was [redacted] crowded and we were able to sit down for little of the five-hour trip, except for a sojourn in the dining car, where we had a typical heavy German dinner, saved by a bottle of Erdener Pralaat. We arrived in Bonn before midnight where John Davies and Norris Chipman met us and took me to Dr. Conant's house in Bad Godesberg.

DECLASSIFIED